PB PARTICIPATORY
BUDGETING WORKS

Join us for the Launch of a Charter to support quality Participatory Budgeting (PB).

What is PB?

PB is a democratic process that involves local people having a direct say on the spending and priorities of part of a public budget.

Participatory Budgeting goes beyond informing or consulting with communities. Instead, it empowers communities through direct decision-making on public spending decisions. As each PB process is unique the purpose of the Charter is to offer guiding points to support you to plot and navigate your own PB course. Come along to find out more about PB and talk with people and communities who have been doing PB across the region.
