DAN SHIPSIDES - Pan 360 - LandscapeHomePan 360 - Landscape 2008/9CV & contactStatementsBibliographyProjects

This ongoing series of short, landscape based, video works are made by attaching a modified camera to a leash and whirling it through the space above and around my body. This simple activity of production dissolves conventional landscape scenes or views into sequences of dramatic visual activity where the landscape image is literally put into a spin. The raw video-scapes combine both the performative activity with the beautiful concordant / discordant footage of the environment.

Through this, it merges the figure and the landscape within a spatial narrative that is not constructed on the organizing principle of the static frame and single viewpoint but on the physicality of actions in the landscape embedded with functional technology.

The pan 360 series was first exhibited in the Ardous Intent show (TULCA 2008) and then as a full body of work they were exhibited in 2009 at the Pan 360 exhibition
