

The Invincible Armada's presence in Ireland:

New Historical, Archaeological, and Literary Interpretations

Free entry, everyone welcome!

Register at:
ulster.ac.uk/events

International Conference Celebrating 50 Years of Ulster University

Ulster University
Coleraine Campus
Friday 5th April 2019
Room LT7

Gabriel Guarino
✉ g.guarino@ulster.ac.uk
Facebook North Coast Armada Connection
Facebook Ulster University Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences

Ulster University and the North Coast Armada Connection is kindly inviting you to attend the International Conference - The Invincible Armada's Presence in Ireland: New Historical, Archaeological and Literary Interpretations, taking place on:

Friday, April 5, Room LT 7, Main Building, Coleraine Campus.

Sponsored and organized by the Coleraine Campus Provost, the School of Arts and Humanities and the North Coast Armada Connection, the event is part of Ulster 50 years' Celebrations and 50 years since the discovery of the Girona Galleass.

The conference will feature a series of academic lectures from renowned national and international specialists related to historical, literal and archaeological aspects of the Spanish Armada and its legacy in Ireland and the British Isles. This will be followed by various cultural events.

For a full programme and registration please follow this link:

<https://www.ulster.ac.uk/events/corporate/the-invincible-armadas-presence-in-ireland>

[The Invincible
Armada's Presence In Ireland - Ulster University](#)

Latest news.
£150k investment announced to improve mental health services for students. 7
March 2019.
World's largest study of anxiety and depression seeks to understand the genetic links to mental health issues

www.ulster.ac.uk

Attendance is free of charge and a lunch hot fork buffet will be offered to all attendees.

We are looking forward to seeing you there!