Innovative Methods for Engaging People Living with Dementia in Public Health Research

Mrs Jean Daly Lynn1, 2 Professor Assumpta Ryan3; Professor Brendan McCormack4; Professor Suzanne Martin2

1 Engage With Age, Belfast, Northern Ireland
2 School of Health Sciences, Ulster University, Newtownabbey, Northern Ireland
3 School of Nursing, Ulster University, Magee, Northern Ireland
4 Head of Division of Nursing, Queen Margaret University, Scotland

For further information please contact: j.daly-lynn@ulster.ac.uk

Art based research presents new opportunities for people living with dementia to engage and express themselves without a focus on language. To explore the lived experience within technology enriched housing for people living with dementia, sixty-four participants took part in forty-eight art-based focus groups across eight housing schemes within Northern Ireland. The output of the qualitative research is illustrated in this poster.

An art workshop guide was developed from the findings. Please contact us for a copy.

The project was funded by the Health and Social Care Research and Development Division Public Health Agency and Atlantic Philanthropies (COM/4955/14).